I am the vineyard manager for Charles Krug, located in the Napa Valley. Last year I had the opportunity to use the microbial product AquaBella on our holding ponds.

We were told by AquaBella organic Solutions that in addition to reducing BOD their product will deal with all the sludge and organic material that is build up in the pipes . We did discovered that this was true and the benefit that our sump pump did not get clogged was great relief and time savings. In my previous experience the pump's filters would get clogged repeatedly, which was a real problem for us. We pumped out the pond multiple times and it went a lot smoother then in previous years.

We are still discovering additional benefits of the product AquaBella and will be using it again this year.
